

100% talks, 0% human interaction. 	387 contact tracing papers submitted to Eurocrypt 2021. 	Arguing savagely against contact tracing so no one finds out that I don't get invited to parties.
Day drinking. 	Desperately trying to plug my crypto research into a grant application on pandemic prevention. 	Having time to catch up on my reading, then not doing it.
Having to wear pants. 	Not being important enough to be asked to sign the public statement on contact tracing. 	Not feeling guilty about falling asleep during the keynote.

Cards
Against Cryptography

Cards
Against Cryptography

Cards
Against Cryptography

Cards
Against Cryptography

Cards
Against Cryptography

Cards
Against Cryptography

Cards
Against Cryptography

Cards
Against Cryptography

Cards
Against
Cryptography

Not having to wear pants.

Not needing to pretend to listen to the other speakers in my session.

Remembering when 'working from home' meant a day off.

The sound of 50 people on a Zoom call all trying to speak at once.

Cards Against Cryptography	Cards Against Cryptography	Cards Against Cryptography
Cards Against Cryptography	Cards Against Cryptography	Cards Against Cryptography
Cards Against Cryptography	Cards Against Cryptography	Cards Against Cryptography